Cotton is being sold on the Manning market from sections of the county that has not sold here before in years. The reason is easily found.

Ferdinand Mack, a negro living near Santee, in the Jordan section, while attempting to catch his horse Sunday, was kicked in the breast by his horse and killed instantly.

The Times editor enjoyed a bucket of fine grapes which Mrs. Sallie McKnight brought him from her farm near town. These kindnesses from his friends are always appreciated.

We can hear almost every day of hunters killing deer, but the evidence is lacking, if there is a class of people who need to prove their statements it is those who hunt and fish.

Maj. Abe Levi left Manning this afternoon, for New York to be married in that city on the 28th to Miss Selma Levy. The bridal couple expects to be at home in Manning next week.

In the page ad of Katzoff there appears: 10c Suits at 49c. when it should read: $1.00 Suits at 49c. also 100 Ladies $10.00 Voile Suits at $2.08 when it should be 100 Ladies $10 Voile Skirts at $2.98.

Read Krasnow this week, he has a good story to tell in his large advertisement. Krasnow is no hot air dispenser, but he is there with the goods. Visit his store and if he does not sell you, it will not be his fault. Try him.

The September meeting of the Civic League will be held at the Court House Tuesday afternoon, the 30th inst., at 4:30 o'clock. At this meeting all plans for the Fall work will be made, and each member is requested to be present.

The friends of Hon. E. Marion Rucker in this county who served in the legislature with him, will learn with regret that his wife, Mrs. Besse Rucker died at her home on the University campus in Columbia Monday night.

Ladies, The Hirschmann millinery opening takes place to-morrow and Friday. Miss Weaver has returned from the North where she has been studying the latest in shapes and styles, and she prepared to show you at this opening just what it is this season.

Shaw-McCollum Mercantile Company is soliciting business from this county, because they appreciate the splendid trade they have already secured through their proper treatment of the trade. Do not miss their advertisement in this issue.

Some of the correspondents to the County Record, of Kingstree, have been criticizing the hunters of this county, and claim that killing of deer is a violation of the law. They are mistaken, the open season for deer in this county began on September 1st.

The Ladies Outfitting Company of Sumter will have its opening Wednesday, October 1st, as will be seen from the advertisement in this issue. This is a new concern, recently opened with Mrs. Atkinson at the head of the millinery department. It is one of the prettiest stores in Sumter.

We told you last week that Katzoff was to be with us this week and he is here, jumped into the advertising ring with both feet with propositions that are bound to attract those who desire to buy now while things are within the reach of buyers. Katzoff says he means what he says and the best way to prove this is to give him a chance to show just what he can and will do. See.

Abrams is taking advantage of the high price of cotton to lay before the public the opportunity to buy goods at "sacrifice" prices. Read his full page advertisement in this issue; scan over the prices he offers and then visit his store to make a personal examination. Abrams has a large stock which he says he is determined to sell regardless of price. He wants the money.

The meeting at the Baptist church conducted by Rev. J. A. Ansley closed last Sunday night, was quite a success, there were several accessions to the church, and those who attend regularly were high pleased with the sermons preached. It is the opinion generally that the new pastor of the Baptist congregation will be a favorite with all, as he is manifesting a spirit of broadness as well as culture, besides, he is of genial disposition, the kind that is easily approached, a companion to the young and a friend of the old.

We know that many of our readers know the McCollum Brothers, these young men we might class as "Clarendon boys" as they were raised in this county in the Sumterton section, and since they have gone into business in Sumter they have by strict attention to business, and hustle built up a business which is their pride. Go to see them when you have read what they have to say this week in this issue.

Mr. J. E. Tennant, a farmer living on route No. 4 from Manning had the misfortune to have his home destroyed Monday by fire. He was unable to save anything from the house. When the fire was discovered Mr. Tennant was in the field and when he reached the house he could do nothing but stand there and see his home and its contents go up in smoke.

A delegation from Columbia went to Washington to offer President Wilson a winter home in the capital city. The house to be one that the President's mother designed. The President told his callers that if he made his winter home in the South it would be in Columbia. Should President Wilson decide to move his family to Columbia for the winter, that city will exert itself as never before to give them the time of their lives.

Coffey & Rigby of this town has established a sales stand at New Zion for the handling of horses and mules. Mr. Alphonsa Rigby is in charge of the business and will handle a full line of everything sold in such an establishment. Coffey & Rigby are experienced stock handlers, they know just where the needs of the farmers can be supplied and they try as a rule, to please by keeping good stock at prices within reach of the trade.

Sumter has now the U. S. Woolen Mills where a suit will be made to order for $15. What do you know about that? A man's suit, coat, pants and vest for $15. The display of piece goods in this store is worth looking over, and everything is made on the guarantee, no fit, no take. The U. S. Woolen Mills is a large concern, having a chain of stores in the principal cities of the South, and they are soliciting business from our readers.

The Sumter Dry Goods Company—I there a woman or girl in Clarendon that has not heard of this splendid concern? We doubt if one can go into a home in the county and not find some article bought from this store. There is a reason. They carry everything in the dry goods line, and they know what no ladies need and want, besides, their store is a school for fashions where people go for the latest. Read what they are saying to The Times Readers this week.

Grand Millinery Opening Hirschmann's, Thursday and Friday, September 25-26th. D. Hirschmann.

The readers of The Times will read with pleasure the two column advertisement in this issue of the well known business house in Sumter O'Donnell and Company, among the largest general merchants in this State. This store has been for many years the headquarters for the sale of this and the counties adjoining Sumter. When the Farmers Alliance was in full blast it was through the O'Donnell Company that great aid was rendered, and today whenever the farmers combine for the purchase of such quantities, either of grain, fertilizer, bagging and ties or groceries, they seek the counsel of this concern. We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in this issue.

Sibert's Drug Store is in this issue, and we want those of our readers to know that this reputable drug store not only is headquarters for the Rexall goods, but it is one of the largest stores of the kind in the State. Not only does Dr. Sibert carry a full line of everything that is carried in a first class retail drug store, but he also has a wholesale department from which he supplies other drug stores, and nearly all of the general stores in the county, which carry medicines. Sibert's Drug Store is popular because it handles nothing but the best with efficient corps of prescription clerks for that branch and courteous assistants for the other departments of his well equipped establishment.

The Policing Proposition.
It was remarked that if Clarendon had a system of Rural Police there would not have been as many cases in the county as we had here last week. It is our opinion that with a rural police system we would have more cases in the county, because, the officers in their zeal to hold their jobs would cause arrests to be made that are now unneeded. We have an Act which permits townships to inaugurate a police system, but so far it has not been taken advantage of and the reason assigned is that the expense would be too much for a township. This Act was made for the purpose of giving the system a trial where it was most needed and if it operated well, then it could be amended so as to extend its provisions. We have discussed this matter with many persons, and we have yet to find a man who is willing to entrust anybody with the powers of rural police, all agree that if good men will accept the position, good will result from having the system, the trouble is getting the good men; all are agreed also that unless the right kind of men are given the power it will be far better not to undertake the thing.

Our position on this matter is simply this, if the people of this county are of the opinion that a rural police system shall be established, if they will make the same known we feel sure the delegation will give it earnest consideration, to have it made known by those who are wanting places, or who are interested in those desiring the job is not the kind of knowledge the delegation desires. It will cost several thousand dollars to put a number of men on a county police force, the matter of turning money into the treasury should not be considered, the consideration should solely be the proper enforcement of the law. There is not as much crime committed in this county as there is in some others, we have a more law abiding people, white and black, our main trouble here is the presence of illicit liquor dealers, these should be suppressed, but it is doubtful if our mind if the police can suppress them. In the towns, illicit dealers exist, under the very noses of the police, if this is true, how much more difficult will it be when they are scattered over the county? All lawlessness should be put down, but to do so the citizens must take a hand in putting it down.

Court Continued.

When we went to press last week the court was engaged to the trial of J. J. Nettles charged with the murder of a minor child. This was a case that should not have been necessary for a court in this State to try, we have never listened to a more revolting case in this court house and we hope never again to listen to another like it. The whole case was a depicting of depravity itself. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Henry Felder convicted of disposing of property under lien was given a sentence of four months on the farm, or a fine of forty-five dollars.

A not pros was entered in the case of James Seals charged with uttering a check without funds to meet same.

The case against J. J. Nettles charged with breach of trust with fraudulent intent, upon motion of the State was continued.

Allen Kind pleaded guilty to the charge of housebreaking and larceny and was sentenced to two years on the farm.

Reubin Pickett, and Sam Richardson pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny and was sentenced to thirty days each or pay a fine of $50 each.

Marguerite Keith, Cassie Cabbage-stalk and Missie Peterson, were acquitted of assault and battery with intent to kill, and Carrie Ross indicted with the others was found guilty of assault and given 20 days or a fine of $25.

Isaac Harvin was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The case against J. M. Fleming charged by the grand jury with murder was continued. This is the case where a guard on the gang shot and killed a convict while he was trying to escape, and the trial is a matter of form.

Alex Williams charged with assault and battery with intent to kill and carrying concealed weapons in two cases was sentenced to 18 months in each case.

The court of General Sessions finished its labors here last Tuesday, and Judge Sease took advantage of the interval to go to his home at Spartanburg, but was on hand Monday morning and opened the court of Common Pleas.

The first case called was that of A. J. Briggs and others, against J. M. Caldwell and others, in the matter of proving the Will of the late Mrs. E. M. Briggs in solemn form. On account of the issue involved, and the prominence of the proponents of the Will in this county, considerable interest was manifested, and through the trial there were many spectators. Col. R. D. Lee of the Sumter bar and Capt. W. C. Davis of the local bar represented the proponents, and Charlton Durrant Esq., the contestants. This was one of the hardest fought cases Clarendon has had in years.

Mr. DuRant, single handed, made a brave fight against the combined ability of his adversaries, and regardless of the final outcome, it should be given to him that he demonstrated a splendid legal talent. The arguments and the examinations of witnesses was interesting, neither side made concessions nor did either side ask for quarter, but both fought to the finish. It was a great trial.

Mrs. E. M. Briggs predeceased her husband, the late Maj. R. R. Briggs, she left a will and made her husband the legatee, Maj. Briggs also made a will devising his property to his brother, the relatives of Mrs. Briggs questioned the will of Mrs. Briggs and required the executors to prove it in solemn form, this proceeding was had before the probate court, and that court declared against the Mrs. Briggs will, the case went to the circuit court and resulted in a mistrial, and the present case is a retrial.

The arguments began yesterday afternoon.

ter dinner, and as Mr. Duktant was about to conclude Mr. Marion Graham one of the jurors received a telegram calling him home, the telegram did not state what had happened but he was so distressed, by consent of counsel on both sides the Judge excused him from further attendance and the case proceeded with eleven jurors.

The Sumter Clothing Company, composed of young active merchants who are in the fight this season good, and strong for a share of the trade of the people of this county. An inspection of their stock will disclose a splendid line of everything in men's and boy's wear, from head to foot, either outer or under garments. We urge our readers not to overlook the attractive advertisement in this issue. When in Sumter let them know you saw their Adv. and they will do the rest.
